

Ringo

– Flexible and Comfortable Chair

Ringo takes its name from the ring under the seat that adjusts the height, making the chair easy to customize no matter how you sit. The chair is ideal for workbenches, schools, kindergartens, or any setting where adjustability and ergonomics are important. The standard version comes in black faux leather, but Ringo can also be ordered in other upholstery fabrics upon request, or with a laminated wooden seat.

For added comfort and functionality, the chair can be customized with glides, different gas lift heights, and a footring/footrest.
