

Public sledge

Public features a sleek and modern seat shell made of polypropylene, available in a wide range of colors – including our Ocean palette, made from recycled plastic sourced from the aquaculture industry along the Norwegian coast. The chair has a lightweight design and a wide range of applications. It is delivered with powder-coated steel legs and can be upholstered in seat and back using various fabric options, or fully upholstered in capture.

Public is available with armrests, which also enable the chair to be suspended on tabletop edges for easier cleaning. Standard frame finishes include black or silver, with the option to match the frame color with the shell if desired. The chair stacks up to 7 on the floor and 20 on a Flexi trolley.
